

In Search Of A New Hot Tub Covers

Getting hot tub covers and spa covers is not at all a simple task with the gaining popularity of these hot tubs. The need to modify the spas and molds has become a challenge to the manufactures as the needs of the people have also increased.

You need not get disheartened about getting a suitable cover for your hot tub. All you need to do is to measure the dimension of your hot tub so that you could get the most suitable sized hot tub cover to protect you hot tub when not in use.

If you are already using a spa cover and are happy with the fitting of this cover all you need to do is to measure this cover itself and buy yourself another spa cover.

But then if the cover that you are using has worn out or damaged then the best way is to replace it but then you need to measure the hot tub as these hot tub covers tend to shrink over a certain time period so the measuring of the old spa cover would be a waste as this measurement will not be a perfect fit for your hot tub. The best way to ensure that you get the perfect fitted hot tub cover now is to measure the hot tub itself.

How does one go about measuring the hot tub?

The rule to measure the hot tub is simple all you need to do is to measure the length and the width of the hot tub at the widest point. You also need to make sure that you measure the outside edge so that the covers will cover-up the entire lip of the hot tub.

As the spa cover tends to shrink over a time period you also need to take this point into consideration and measure another half an inch extra to be on the safer side as this extra inch will give a margin on each side of the hot tub.

It has been found that most of the manufacturers take into consideration the shrinkage of the spa cover over a time period and provide spa shapes with dimension lines, but then you should be sure to note down the measurement right from the start line to the end of the spa shape along with the measurement of the dimensions also.

Rule is that if the cover is a little bigger than the spa then it will be fine, but then if the cover is even a little smaller than it will not be a hot tub cover.

As there are other parts in the hot tub like the air buttons to let go the hot air, head rests, and the most important part the control panels that are above the lip, these require cutouts, so when you go out to buy hot tub covers or spa covers you need to explain in details all the necessary changes that you will be required in your hot tub covers for which you may be charged extra.

About the Author

There are many companies dealing with providing hot tub covers, spa pumps covers, pumps, heaters, and spa covers but then Beyond Nice is the name that is sought after, as they are the first who have offered to help you design your own hot tub, spa covers with the promise of being environment friendly. If you need to know more about this, you could always use the Internet to help you.

Source: <http://www.roughweather.org>